Explanation of Recurring Weekly Billing for Summer Camp for new Parent Portal

Example calculation: The weekly flat rate is approximately $135 per week. If you sign up for 5 of the 11 available weeks, then the total amount to be charged is $$135 \times 5 = \675 . One day's payment is required as a "down payment", so you will be paying $27 up front. This leaves $$675 - $27 = $648$.

If you are paying with AUTOPAY this amount is divided by the number of weeks between your first date of attendance and your last date of attendance (in this example all 11 weeks) to give you your weekly payment. $$648/11 = 58.909$. This is rounded down to the nearest penny, so the payment are $58.90, meaning your total payment amount is actually $647.90. So these payment are approximately $135 per week and are more like a house or car payment where you are paying off the total amount on a regular schedule after the down payment is taken in to account.

Manual payments (NOT setup as AUTOPAY) are only due before the first day of each week of attendance and will be calculated as above, except for the number of weeks will be the actual number of weeks attended. Please contact us with any questions.
